OUR CLIENTS SAY IT BEST...

Kennas look after our business accounting and taxation needs, and they do a great job. We can have candid discussions on all aspects of our business and personal finances, including potential business opportunities, budgets and cash flow management.

We feel like Kennas are genuinely invested in seeing our business succeed, so we trust them to help us in maximising our opportunities to achieve our financial goals.

C & A Howell, Amcor Excavations

Kennas has provided us with both accountancy and financial services for over 10 years now, guiding us through the establishment and growth of a medical practice and development of our own personal taxation and investment programs.

In our minds the team at Kennas is second-to-none. We have always encountered the highest levels of professionalism and value the honest, trustworthy and reliable advice that is readily available.

In our experience Kennas tailors its service to the needs of its customers. For us the team at Kennas has become a much appreciated and highly valued source of guidance, advice and support.

I & Z Etherington

We have been associated with Kennas for over thirty years. Having been a family-owned rural business, we initially mainly required advice relating to rural business accounting and taxation matters.

When it came time to retire and hand over the business to our sons, Kennas' assistance was invaluable in completing the succession transition seamlessly. In retirement, with our super fund in place, we have confidence in Kennas financial advice.

Throughout the years, Kennas team have always been professional, efficient and accessible with up to the minute information readily shared.

P & J Werner

Kennas has provided professional accounting and business management advice to our firm for over 40 years. During this time, the team at Kennas has guided us through a fivefold growth in our business.

Kennas has an intimate understanding of our client base and the service we provide to our clients. Kennas also offer an excellent service in benchmarking our performance against other similar professional organisations. This has enabled our firm to identify areas of improvement and consolidate our strengths.

Important to our firm's managing partners and our staff is the Financial Planning advice provided by Kennas. This enables our team to invest wisely for their future, advice which is valued by our staff.

G & M Wills

I have used Kennas now for over 18 years for my business accounting and taxation needs. I have always found them to be a joy to deal with. Recently they were an integral part in assisting me with the successful sale of my company to an overseas buyer.

They are a very professional company, and have always been available when I need them. I value their business advice very highly. I have always found their advice timely and understandable."
